The Perlman Music Program Summer Music School CONTACTING YOUR CHILD

TELEPHONE USE: We request that phone calls to your child be kept to a minimum. Frequent phone calls from family and friends can interrupt practice sessions and other activities and make it difficult for the students to adapt to the program. We realize that this may be a first time experience for some students. However, with the expertise of our counselors and the relationship your child already has with his/her teacher, we feel confident that your child will not have any difficulty adjusting to the program.

Your cooperation in this matter is greatly appreciated.

VISITING YOUR CHILD: Parents are welcome to visit campus during visiting hours, which are generally between Saturday at 1:30pm and Sunday at 6pm, provided the student doesn't have an otherwise scheduled activity. Visits should be limited to a brief time (an hour or so) and should take place off campus - we ask that parents don't linger for an extended time on campus unless you are here for a concert or other public event. You should always let Anna Kaplan (akaplan@perlmanmusicprogram.org) or Adam Meyer (ameyer@perlmanmusicprogram.org) know your plan prior to the visit, and your child should check out with a Fellow immediately before leaving campus.

CONCERT ATTENDANCE: We have WIP (Works in Progress) Concerts throughout the summer, almost every Friday and Saturday. Kids can sign up to play solo repertoire on the WIPs - it is up to them if they sign up and when, and it is very informal. They are not required to perform during the summer, it is completely up to them if they do. Chamber groups will perform either on July 6 or 7, as well as contemporary chamber music on July 21. There will be one public chorus and orchestra concert on July 25. You can check out our schedule of public events at perlmanmusicprogram.org/events, as well as instructions on RSVPs.

EMERGENCIES: The emergency phone for the camp during the summer is (917) 370 – 0593. Thank you for only using this service in cases of emergency.

INTERNET ACCESS: Students will have access to their email accounts – be sure that the accounts can be accessed from a remote computer. Wifi is available in a limited area, not including common areas or dormitories.

CELLULAR TELEPHONES: PMP has a strict policy about cell phones. Phones are collected at curfew time and returned at lunch. This is to prevent distractions when students should be either sleeping or practicing. Your understanding in this matter is greatly appreciated.
